Sergeant Clarence Dinkins has just returned from France, looking fine and healthy. He received a wound in his right arm. He leaves this week for Ft. McPherson.

We heard a week or more ago that the town would make weekly inspections of all premises, but so far we haven't seen the inspector. Maybe this work will start next winter, or when cotton goes to 35 cents.

Mr. R. D. Cothran returned to Manning last evening from Brookneal, Va., where he has been conducting a tobacco warehouse this winter. Mr.
Cothran says tobacco is still selling high. His little daughter Ruth accompanied him home.

Among the soldiers returning to Clarendon this week are many members of the 371st Regiment. This regiment with the exception of the commissioned officers was composed of Negro soldiers who saw hard service overseas for many months. These men made an enviable record, many of them receiving decorations. Among these was Will M. Oliver of Summerton, who wears the Croix de Guerre given for bravery in action.

On the afternoon of February 11, 1919, Mrs. Ellen Tucker May, wife of Mr. Frank May answered the call to higher duties, and quickly "slipped away." Mrs. May was a home loving woman, devoted to her family, and never tiring in her service for them.
She was a kind and thoughtful neighbor always ready to lend a helping hand. She loved the church and Missionary Society, responded promptly and gladly to their support, often expressing regret that because of the care of her little children, and other home duties, she was not able to attend the meetings more regularly.

and while we can not understand the Providence which took this young wife and mother from her home, the community and the church, still we bow in humble submission to the Will of our kind Heavenly Father, for we know He never makes any mistakes.
Second, That we extend to the stricken husband, the aged mother who leaned so confidently on this strong and affectionate daughter, and the little children who so sadly miss her tender care, our deepest sympathy.

Third, That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family, and be printed in The Manning Times, and that a page in our minutes be en-scribed to her memory.

Affectionately submitted,
Mrs. Joseph Sprott,
Mrs. W. P. Legg.
